MODERN METHODS.

Now They Have Improved a Standard Remedy.

In the 17th century a wave of excitement swept over England and France when the medical profession discovered such wonderful curative elements in the cod's liver. In the 18th century cod liver oil was imported and used extensively by physicians in this country, but it was found to be adulterated to a great extent, and the useless heavy oil which enveloped the medicinal elements, a great hindrance to its medicinal value.

In 1855 a famous physician from the Hague went to Norway and after two years of experiment and research produced a light-brown oil from the cod's livers which was said to be more valuable than the pale yellow oil, but the taste and odor was so repulsive that it frequently caused such nausea that it made it very unpopular.

The most valuable discovery, however, was later made by two eminent French chemists, who after years of research discovered an extractive and concentrating process, by which all of the medicinal, healing and body building elements of the cod's liver are separated from the useless and nauseating oil. These recovered medicinal elements combined with peptonate of iron make Vinol the most scientific and valuable cod liver preparation which the world has ever known.

Vinol is so rich in the elements of life that it imparts vigor to all debilitated and feeble conditions and is unexcelled as a remedy for all pulmonary troubles.

Try Vinol on your guarantee to return your money if it fails to give satisfaction.

We have received from C. G. Glover a copy of the Daily Oklahoman issued on Saturday, Nov. 16—its lay on which Oklahoma was admitted into the sisterhood of States. This issue was a 16 page, 7 column daily paper. The average daily circulation for the month of October was 21,040. Our readers may have some idea of the city and surrounding country from the daily circulation of this paper.

Shoots Himself in Head.

At Guthrie, Ky., George M. Galloway, until a short time ago a bartender in a saloon which closed with other Todd county saloons, committed suicide by shooting himself. He had been on a protracted spree.

STOLEN

Money Orders Used to Swindle Jewelers.

Through stolen postoffice money orders robbers swindled Cincinnati jewelers out of more than $1,000 worth of jewelry and cash. The postoffice at Petersburg, Ky., was robbed by a band of men who went to the town in an automobile. They took money order blanks. The jewelers went to the local postoffice to get the orders, cashed that they took in payment for goods. In was then learned that the orders had been filled in by the robbers.

The orders had been made out in favor of the merchants victimized by persons who wished to make a purchase. Jewelry would be bought and the difference would be taken in cash.

HIS TROUBLES TOO GREAT.

Cuts His Throat and Wrist.

Howard Maxwell, deposed president of the Borough Bank, of Brooklyn, N. Y., under indictment for grand larceny and forgery, was released from jail on $30,000 bail on November 25, and committed suicide on the 26th. He cut his throat and wrist with a razor and pen knife in the bath room of his home and died at Long Island College Hospital. Maxwell, who was locked up four days, appeared hopelessly despondent.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute," says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of Coffee in it either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for Coffee. For sale by Roth Bros. 21-41

Willson Surprises Pie Men.

Gov. Willson's declaration to have anything to do with the distribution of Federal patronage in the State is a source of much comment in political circles. The Administration would be glad to turn over to him the absolute control of the postmasterhips and other Federal offices in the State, and the idea that the Governor has informed heads of departments that he would not make recommendations is considered miraculous by the "broad and butter brigade." In the meantime, the Governor is receiving stacks of letters in every mail from candidates for Federal office, and is simply referring them to the proper department without comment.—Washington Cor. Courier-Journal.

FACTS & OBSERVATIONS

Events at Campton and Stanton, Kentucky.

CAMPTON.

We arrived here on Thursday night at 7 o'clock and stayed until Saturday. We were surprised to learn that natural gas will be discontinued in the town on Dec. 1st. Many people "half froze" last winter but were without coal. Now they are supplied with coal and the gas will be out. We are quite sure there has been a reckless waste of gas by consumers at Campton and also at Hazel Green. The supply would no doubt last longer if the owners of gas fields would put in meters. Then consumers would be economic in use of it. A good thing can be abused.

About 100,000 railroad ties are stacked at Campton for shipment over Mountain Central to L. & E. The distance is about 13 miles and the freight is 11c on each tie. Transportation by wagon is 12c. We feel confident that passengers over the Central will in the future be more comfortable in cold weather.

We were called on Saturday morning for breakfast, walked about 1 mile and were on time for 5:40 train. The morning was cold and rainy and the road slick. The man with a lantern was not going our way. As we passed a dwelling we heard a young girl playing on a piano and singing: "There's No Place Like Home." How appropriate!

Onward and homeward we directed our footsteps.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As we go up and down in the earth we see and hear things political, "wise and otherwise." Saw some folks who told why the political landslide took place. There is a oneness of opinion that something has happened to the Democratic party. We accepted the conclusion. Crookedness in committee work and primary, Hargisism and machine rule, discrimination between Powers and Hargis are assigned as the chief causes. That's the talk.

We saw two men pass us in building and enter a room. They seemed to have difficulty in fastening the door. In a few seconds they walked out, one wiping his mouth. They certainly did not think that our eyes were X-ray, that our smelling machine was in good order. We did not see the necessity of so much secrecy. "Twas all as plain as if they had stopped before us in the hall and said: 'Parson excuse us for taking a nip. We smiled and thought. Liquor is said to be good for sick elders and lawyers and other animals, but we quit drinking more than 30 years ago. We have snuffed the breezes of both oceans, have grown faint in high altitudes of the Rockies, have basked under tropical plants charmed by sweet music, have exposed myself to heat and cold, have grown weary with long tramps for Facts and Observations, have been in, have attended social functions and political conventions, have heard other fellows cuss and tell yarns, have seen some queer sights, but have thus far seen no necessity for whiskey drinking socially, hygienically, morally, philosophically or otherwise considered. This would be a queer world if everybody acted as every other body. It is good neither to eat flesh nor drink wine or anything whereby thy brother stumbleth or is is offended or made weak."

Do it now is a very good rule with regard to your Christmas shopping.

HOTELS MAY LOSE CHARTERS

For Suffering Gambling in Indiana.

The Indiana Appellate Court reversed judgment in the French Lick Springs and West Baden Hotel cases.

After many attempts to reach the gambling situation in those hotels, rendered futile by the unwillingness of the Orange county authorities to act, Gov. Hanly concocted the scheme of going after the hotel companies on the ground that as corporations holding charters from the State, they were, in permitting gambling, doing something which they were not authorized to do and for which the charters could be revoked.

WANTS COURSE IN COURTSHIP AND MARRIAGE IN SCHOOLS.

Illinois Superintendent of Public Instruction So Declares.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Blair, of Illinois, proposed last week before the Chicago English Club in Fullerton Hall of the Art Institute that a course in courtship and marriage be added to the Illinois public school curriculum.

The superintendent would not have the usual sort of classes of instruction in love making, but wants the pupils taught by indirect means. For example, says Mr. Blair, a study of Enoch Arden or Miles Standish would give the pupils a right idea of how to propose. Mr. Blair did not explain to what length he desired the pupils to go into the subject, but was positive in his assertion that a general idea of courtship should be given the pupils.

"I can see no reason why this subject should be avoided," he said. "This department in public school education is unique and deserves further consideration."

Doan's Kidney Pills cure such ills. Have cured when here in Mt. Sterling. This is one Mt. Sterling woman's testimony.

Mrs. Mary Kelley, wife of Peter Kelley, farmer, living just outside of the city limits, on the Winchester pike, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills were so beneficial and positive in their results that I am compelled to place great faith in them. I was troubled to quite an extent and with a complication of kidney troubles. The symptoms were so marked as to leave no possibility of doubt in my mind as to what kind of medicine I required; so, on noticing some testimonials of the strongest kind endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills, my husband procured a box for me at F. C. Duerson's drug store. On taking them I was convinced that the advertised statements concerning Doan's Kidney Pills were nothing short of the truth, for this good preparation absolutely cured me. My husband also used Doan's Kidney Pills and found the results entirely satisfactory."

GREAT DISGRACE

For Madison County. Prospective Jurors in Great Debauch at Beattyville.

We clip the following from the Richmond Climax of November 27. The facts are a great reproach to the guilty and shows the sinful nature of men when temptation is before them. These facts are a strong argument in favor of local option. The article reads:

The most disgraceful episode in the annals of Madison county occurred when about fifty of her citizens got so heavily drunk at Beattyville. These men were a part of the special venire of 150 citizens of this city and county, summoned to try the case of the French-Murder murder trial. The conduct of these forty or fifty or sixty men, whatever the number, beggars description. They proceeded on their arrival at Beattyville to patronize the only saloon in that town or in that whole section of Eastern Kentucky, and within a few hours these men were converted into a howling mob, driving everything before them—as one man expressed it—terrifying the mountaineers themselves, who had been of drunken disorder, but never before in all their lives had witnessed such an uproar and debauch. Every boarding house in the city was turned into a cage of human wild cats. Doors were forced open, furniture smashed, and vomit bespattered not only upon the beds and carpets, but upon the dining table of one boarding house. The little bar-room was taken possession of bodily by these people and five bartenders were kept busy dishing out the fluid intoxicants until the early morning hours and men lay like logs in the floor upon the floor in the bar room and on the streets of the city. Three of them received severe injuries by falls while intoxicated. One man had his nose split open, another had his knee dislocated, and still another fell forty feet from a bridge, narrowly escaping death, receiving several broken bones.

The court house presented a spectacle, which has no parallel in court annals of this country so far as we know, owing to the fact that when the names of these men were called for examination for jury service, they were often asleep or in such a drunken stupor as to be wholly unfit for consideration.

To Special Judge Dorsey is due the thanks of these men for peremptorily punishing them. The Peace Officers of Beattyville treated their distinguished guests with such indulgent consideration as to place them under life-long obligation to them also. Those citizens who managed to stay sober in the midst of this Bacchanalian delirium, declare that the disgraceful scenes enacted could not be overdrawn or exaggerated. Men who had not tasted liquor for months, because of local option enforcement here, yielded to the temptation of their convivial surroundings and fell by the way side with the rest of the past grand masters in drunkenness. It seemed to be a deliberate effort to drink Beattyville dry and put the saloon out of business before the local option law takes effect on December 1, which will put a stop to the existence of this last "breathing hole of hell" in Eastern Kentucky.

The Climax refrains from going into further particulars, which it can and will do if necessary. Those who are morally and legally responsible for all of this disorder, should make their peace with their neighbors and friends here at home and had as well extend the Climax thanks for its indulgence along with Judge Dorsey and the Peace Officers of Beattyville.

Every citizen guiltless of such disgraceful behavior may well blush for the reputation of this great county, in its present ignominy. When sobriety, wisdom and decorum are the only traits to be exhibited on such an important mission as these men were summoned for, the double disgrace of seeing them descend to a scale below the level of even him whom they had been summoned to try, must call for apology most ample and repentance most abject and complete. Not only that, but on this venire there were men who were not qualified for jury service; whilst others, as we hear, would not be selected on a jury in Madison county. Why was this travesty permitted? Why was the Commonwealth put to the expense of nearly $75 for attendance of men who were not housekeepers, and $500 for others intoxicated during court? No wonder an attorney, as is reported, declared the county might be sued to find men less suited than some of these for the sacred office of jurymen.

As a newspaper worthy of its name; worthy of the respect of its thousands of its readers; worthy of the great county upon whose fair name this brand of infamy has been, we hope, only temporarily placed, the Climax condemns and repudiates the coarse conduct of those above described, and believes that the open saloon as such has by the awful behavior of its would-be friends had another steel nail driven into its blood-stained coffin in Madison!

In Memoriam.

"The faults of our Brothers we write upon the sand, their virtues upon the tablets of Love and Memory."

The memorial service of the Mt. Sterling Lodge of Elks No. 723, was held at the Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon. The members marched to the Church. The building was crowded. A. A. Hazlerigg was in charge of the service. Rev. J. L. Weber invoked God's blessing. Miss Mildred Davis presided at the organ in the prelude. The opening ceremony was a quartette by Messrs. Bassett, Hazlerigg, Wood and Senff. The orator of the occasion was Mr. J. L. Earlywine, the postmaster of Paris, Ky. His address abounded in lofty thought and poetic expression and was an exaltation of the Bible and Christianity. A duet by Wood and Senff followed the address.

HARD TEST OF MAN'S PRIDE.

Dislikes to Apply to Women Manager for a Situation.

A big city department store has its employ a woman whose ability finally gained for her a position of such importance that many persons wishing a situation were forced to apply to her. On her judgment depended the fate of men seeking work in the grocery department, the rug department and the picture department. Soon it became apparent that the demand for labor was exceeding the supply. One day the proprietors of the store found themselves in the anomalous position of being short of help. One of the managers set out to discover the cause of this unprecedented scarcity of labor.

"There are plenty of men looking for work of this kind," said one old clerk who was questioned, "but they just can't bring themselves to the point of applying to a woman for a situation. I wouldn't be here myself if I hadn't got this place before Miss Adams was called to her present position. It's bad enough to have to work alongside women at equal wages without having to beg them for a job. That is something that no man with a grain of sand in his make-up is going to stand for."

The manager saw the force of the clerk's reasoning and the next day he undertook to hire clerks for those departments himself.

AIRS OF ALL NATIONS.

Each Country Has Its Own Particular Patriotic Song.

Here is a list of the national airs of all nations: Argentina, "Old Mortarino el Grito Sagrado;" Austria, "Gott Erhalte Unser Kaiser;" Belgium, "La Brabançonne;" Bolivia, "La Marsa de las Huastillas;" Brazil, "Hymno da Proclamacao da Republica;" Denmark, "Thaya Thaa;" Chile, "Dico Nacional;" Costa Rica, "De la Patria;" Czechoslovakia, "Kdyz Kristian Stod ved Bozen Mast;" Ecuador, "Salve O Patria;" Egypt, "Salam Effendi;" Finland, "Hymnari;" France, "La Marseillaise;" Germany, "Heil Dir in Siegerkranz;" Great Britain, "God Save the King;" Holland, "Wien Nierland;" Hungary, "Isten Hadda a Magyarok;" Italy, "Royal March;" Japan, "Komeo Gajo;" Mexico, "Mexicanos, al Grito de Guerra;" Persia, "Salamati Shah;" Peru, "Somos Libres, Seamos Escapare;" Roumania, "Traiasca Rumule;" Russia, "Bozhe Zaria, Chranay;" Salvador, "Baldemos la Patria;" Serbia, "Stod in His God;" Spain, "Marcha de Riego;" Sweden, "Un Swenska Hjertans;" Switzerland, "Rufus da Mein Vaterland;" United States, "Star Spangled Banner;" Uruguay, "Himno Nacional de la Republica Oriental del Uruguay;" Venezuela, "Gloria al Bravo Pueblo."

Parable of Life.

A little clock sat on a little table wishing the time away. The Minute-hand hustled by, and taunted the Hour-hand with being slow. "I'm around this dial a dozen times while you are getting over it once." "Very true," responded the Hour-hand, "but without me you would not know day from night." "Don't quarrel, you two," gasped the little Second-hand, as he rushed along. "Remember I'm of more importance than either of you. In a quarter of a second of time a thousand lives may be lost and at every stroke of my pony hand a soul is born." "He is only a child," said the Hour-hand, wearily. "Wait till I strike Twelve! That will mean something." And so the Minute-hand went its eternal way, and the fancy Second-hand never pained, and the little dial grew white in the moonlight that hung over one who was watching and waiting for that moment when his hour should be struck by the unseen hand. At last! But without stopping, the little clock ticked on and on.

Ballooning Record.

Many aerial trips have been made in balloons. In 1849 Mr. Wise started from St. Louis and came down in Henderson county, N. Y., having made about 800 miles. This stood as the world's long distance record until the Paris exposition of 1900, when the Count de la Vaux sailed over into Russia. His distance was about 1,200 miles, and he was in the air over 36 hours.

The present record for time was established by two German aviators last spring. They succeeded in remaining in the air over 51 hours—Osting Magazine.

Mexican University.

A national university is to be located in the City of Mexico in part of a scheme put forward by Justo Sierra, Mexican minister of public instruction, at the recent closing session of the Mexican congress. This national university is intended to be modeled after the French plan, and to unite and coordinate the educational institutions of the republic as a whole with somewhat the same relations that the University of Paris has to the framework of French education.

Learned Lawyer's Pun.

One of the most eminent London surgeons at the beginning of the last century was a Mr. Heavymide. His industry was phenomenal, and so often were his services requisitioned that the report of a case in the courts of justice hardly seemed complete unless his name was heard in connection with it. "Egad!" said a distinguished legal luminary of the day "we never have a homicide nor a suicide, nor any other case now without a Heavymide."

Notice!

Nothing will be charged, nothing will be sent on approval during this sale. Every article will be marked in plain figures. No deviation from marked prices.

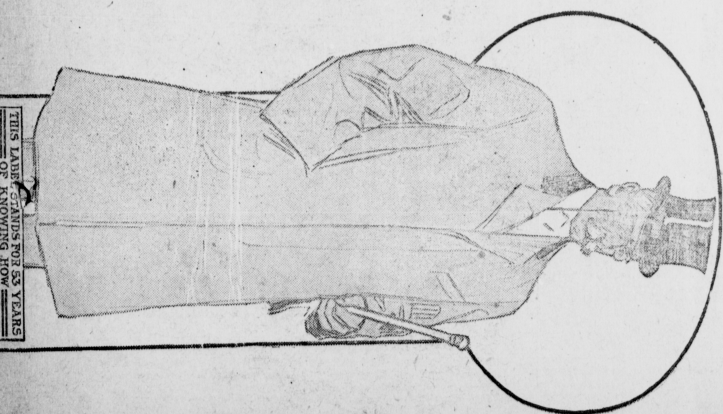

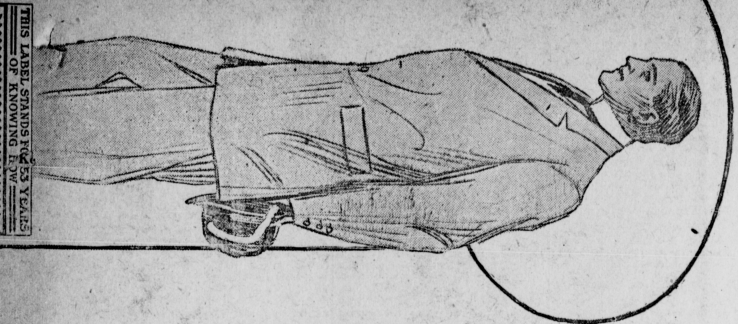

Which comes, we know, as a surprise to all, and right in the height of the season, when you need the goods, and Christmas shopping is at hand. Conditions in the East have reached the crisis; the stringency in the money market has come to a point where it is squeezing the manufacturers, who must have money to carry the coming season's business. We have been offered discounts on undue bills from abroad that reaches an ordinary profit, greater, in fact, we believe, than we could realize on our goods by holding them. We know that it will look like bad business judgment on our part to you for us, right now, in the heart of the season, to cut the life out of our goods and scatter profits to the winds. We know, and you know, that local conditions don't warrant this move, but foreign conditions makes it possible for us to cover our losses here by extremely liberal discounts offered by Eastern concerns; hence we cut the prices, and we cut them deep, and cut every article in the store. We don't do things by halves. Compare our prices with the self-styled high priests of honesty (?) who are plainly frenzied store-keepers, taking chances, and you will plainly see when the prices are cut that WALSH BROS. cut them sure enough.

Remember our goods are standard brands, our twenty years of honest merchandising in this town are the bulwarks of a bridge that will not collapse. Avoid the "Will o' the Wisp" fellows--wait for the big sale, which starts

Saturday Morning December 7

Our store will be closed all day Thursday and Friday, December 5th and 6th, to mark down prices and arrange stocks. Wait! Stay at home, and come Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, when the BIG CUT PRICE SALE starts.
